

CANAL POINT

I. H. Davis, who has been in the mercantile business in Canal Point for several years, is taking a vacation and visiting relatives in the west. An item in the Dakota, South Dakota, Pioneer-Times of July 9, says he visited his daughter, Mrs. Evelyn Sharon and Mrs. Leo Springer at White-wood in the Black Hills and from there went to Seattle, Wash., to visit another daughter before returning to Canal Point. Mr. Davis was a resident of Deadwood for many years.

Stoney Crockett, storekeeper for the sugar company at Anacrus, has returned from a vacation spent in Louisiana, during which he visited his old home. He made the observation about roads and free bridges that Thurmond Knight had made in his traveling. Judging from what Stoney told John Forman, politics has opened up in Louisiana and "Huey" is the central figure in it.

George E. Tedder, farmer and mayor of Belle Glade, and James Darden, business man and farmer, came in one day last week to talk about plans for community and regional development. They are ready to cooperate with anyone in any project for the advancement of the country. Each has shown his faith in Belle Glade by substantial investments.

Grady Boylston has six acres of pumpkins on section 25, northeast of Canal Point. The statement that they are pumpkins corrects the impression that the field is a squash field. Elsewhere pumpkins come in at Thanksgiving time but here we have pumpkins on the fourth of July.

Dr. Emory J. Thomas of West Palm Beach: "My Canal Point investment was the best buy I made during the real estate boom. Say, tell me this: Why does the state let these landowners who haven't paid their taxes take the timber off of the land? When I go fishing in the Port Drum country I see the whole country denuded. Side by side they are cutting timber by the body count to stop it. It's against the law to remove timber from land on which taxes haven't been paid."

paid and the officials should enforce the law."

SLAKE ATTACKED PIG
A rattlesnake struck its fangs into a pig on the bank of Fishhook creek near Ingraham bridge and held on for fully three minutes. S. L. Farnabee of Tammara relates to the correspondent of the County Democrat. Mr. Farnabee killed the snake, which measured 6 feet.
